Learning outcomes and competences

At the end of the course unit the learner is expected to be able to:

1. recognize the importance of the construction of texts to the mental reconstruction of reality
2. recognize the main cultural factors that show the mental confrontation between European individual and the other and the reflection of that confrontation on his/her own vision
3. critically analyze the main Portuguese journeys accounts throughout the world
4. distinguish the real aspects accounted in the journeys texts from those that result from a fictional construction
5. analyze the contextualization of the language as a factor of the consolidation of a community and the consequent necessity of elaborating normative grammatical texts
6. identify the lexical conflicts between the original language and its confrontation with new realities that need to be named

Prerequisites

Before the course unit the learner is expected to be able to:
